University students have been tasked with redesigning Canowindra's heritage rail precinct. A partnership between the University of NSW and Cabonne Shire Council will see a group of architecture and engineering students visit the town. Associate Professor Linda Corkery says there will be a lot for the students to think about.